Zeppelin Group once again rated “A” by Creditreform

As part of an independent corporate issuer rating, the Creditreform Rating* has ranked Zeppelin GmbH’s creditworthiness with an overall rating of “A” and the current outlook as “stable”.

Friedrichshafen / Garching near Munich, Germany, October 1, 2021. With this excellent company ranking, Creditform Rating AG once again attests to Zeppelin’s high level of creditworthiness, which is significantly above average compared to the industry and economy as a whole. According to Creditreform, this positive rating assessment is based, among other things, on the continuing positive business development, prudent corporate policy, management with experience in the industry and crises as well as a diversified product and service portfolio. In addition, the Group’s efforts in the area of sustainability were also included in the assessment for the first time.

"The assessment impressively shows that, despite the economic effects of the Corona pandemic, Zeppelin achieved solid revenue and earnings performance in 2020. All Group employees can be very proud of this. We are also on the road to success in the future. The figures for the first half of 2021 show continued good business performance compared to the previous year. This is a clear signal and confirms our strategic and operational orientation," says Christian Dummler, CFO of Zeppelin GmbH.
